MESSAGE FROM THE ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

I can't imagine how many times I have asked a student, "What do you want to be when you grow up?" The question is a bit trite. However, if a person were able to consider the endless opportunities, he/she could create a list that would give him/her a lifetime of success and satisfaction. The answer may include a career, but it could also include attributes and characteristics which define one's self—truly a success story.

At H.I.S., we promote the Seven Habits of Highly Effective Teens. For October, the habit is "Begin With the End in Mind." It is important for students to focus their time and energy on things that are within their control. It encourages imagination—the ability to envision what one cannot see presently. If one creates a goal to achieve, and revisits that goal, it is very likely that it will be achieved. Spending time on academic skills as well as vocational skills, will reap rewards. There are so many things demanding our attention—some of which will not help us with our goals. If we don't focus on our vision, other people and circumstances will end up shaping our life by default.

It is my hope that we can help your student look forward and imagine his/her potential, and discover who/what they want to be. I promise that we have a fantastic faculty and staff whose goal is to promote that growth towards future successes.
