Trustland/ Community Council meeting 1-20-22

In Person Attendance: Brad Christensen, Dustin Ence, Alayne Isom, Brittany Kroff

Google Meet Attendance: Matt Excel, Cassie Wayman, Travis Christiansen , (Meeting held in person and via Google meet)

Positive Behavior intervention plan - Community Council has to approve the plan each year.

- Giving Tree,
- Positive Talent Assembly
- Anti Bully Week
- D.A.R.E. Program
- Happiness Campaign
- Birthday card and treat
- Get To Know You
- (others as stated in attached "Positive Behavior Plan" spreadsheet)

Wellness Center Data:

- 4/3 ratio of males to females who are using the Wellness Center. (more boys than girls)
- More kids coming later in the day.
- More 6th grade using the center.
- Re-cap what wellness center is for. Data also measures emotions. Students can decompress for 10 minutes, then when they leave they are calm...Shown by green marking on the graph. Arrival and departure data... arrival emotion data is coded blue and departure emotions are coded green. (See attached Wellness Room Data Summary)

JAG TAG Comparisons from 2012 - 2021:

Academic comparison. Out of 700 plus kids, about half have maintained a 3.5 GPA or above. (See attached Jag Tag Comparison)

Learning Center

There are 151 kids identified that are struggling academically. After interventions, the NP's (not passing) have been cut in half! After interventions, of the 71 kids with NP's, there are now only 15 with NP's in 3 or more subjects. This is working and we definitely need to keep this program going. We are averaging an increase in scores by at least 5%. Kids can see that we are consistently calling them to the learning center, and are finally realizing that they will be held accountable for their work. Graph shows yellow as passing.. After a couple months you can see where many more are passing by the more dense yellow color on the graph attached.

Trustlands and TSSA budgets:

We will be given about $105,000 from Trustlands, and about $130,000 from TSSA, so we will have around $235,000 to spend next year. We would like to continue spending this money in the following ways:

- Instructional Aids/ ELL Para salaries for 5 paras about $48,000.00. We went from 0 percent of kids passing tests to 18 percent now passing.... Goal is to get at least 30 percent passing.
- A licensed clinical social worker one day a week, about $22,000 .
- Portion of our Computer tech's salary. This is a cost to us of only $5,000 per year, but having him here, helping students, teachers, and our budget is well worth it. He saves us thousands of dollars by updating Chromebooks and computers so we can use them for a lot longer.
- Wellness center aid, $26,000.
- The rest, we would like to pay for extra class periods for teachers to reduce class sizes. Staffing gives us 1 teacher for 33.5 students if you consider their prep hour... by adding another 12 periods we can get class sizes smaller. It would cost about $132,000.00

Other ideas: Collective commitments activity with faculty to differentiate higher learners and keep them progressing. Use money $5,000.00 for substitute teachers, so our teachers could meet and work in teams to formulate plans for success in the classroom. We were able to purchase chromebook sets, with a grant, and got some computers for teachers this year, but we always need to keep technology items on our radar and in expense plans because technology quickly becomes outdated for use and testing... (Classroom set of Chromebooks is approx. $9,000 each)

Notes from Wellness Room Para	This school year the Wellness Room has been well utilized. We had a total of 758 total visits. This does include training visits but they are essential to helping our new students be aware of the purpose and usage of the room. While the Frequent Flyers do change each week, we have several that continue to use the room often. I have been working with concerned teachers about how the students should access the room. Student who repeatedly come with blue passes are asked to check with their teacher first to come. This has helped cut down on the same class being missed each day by the student. Next trimester we will not have trainings so the numbers may not be as high as this trimester but overall the Wellness Room has seen an increased use over last year. There have been teachers that don't like the Wellness Room visits, but as they learn it's use, they have become more accepting in it's purpose. We all want healthy, happy, and learning students. I like that we all are on the same team for our students.
